The Big Hope 2 – for Young Leaders aged 16–35.

In 2008, Liverpool Hope University hosted 'The Big Hope Global Youth Congress' - the University's celebration of Liverpool's year as European Capital of Culture. International delegates enjoyed a programme of inspirational keynote lectures, events and activities across the City.

One of the lasting outcomes of The Big Hope was the signing of the Liverpool Declaration in which we made a commitment to reprise The Big Hope in 2018. 10 years after the first event, we will recognise the successes and achievements of the original participants and involve and inspire a new generation of young people.

2008 guest speakers included Cherie Booth QC, Cardinal Cormac Murphy O'Connor, and former President of Ireland, Mary McAleese.

The Big Hope 2008

- 800 international delegates
- 63 nations represented
- 21 keynote addresses with audiences ranging from 300-800
- 18 forums with 84 contributors, included panels of international, national and local speakers, Q&A and debate sessions. Many were sponsored by external organisations.
- Teams of multi-national delegates worked on substantial performance and community service-based tasks that had a tangible legacy. Outputs included the Big Hope Big Concert at the Philharmonic Hall, a photography exhibition, design and painting of superlambananas, poetry, art, speeches, a daily newspaper, jazz group and gospel choir.

The Big Hope 2

The Big Hope 2 aims to bring 1,000 young people together to hear from a range of speakers, to be part of powerful discussions and meaningful conversations on a range of themes, and to inspire them to become leaders in a changing world.

The vision of The Big Hope 2 is to:

- Address ideas of global significance, such as freedom, conflict, equality and change.
- Profile the experience of leaders at the forefront of local, national and international challenges to inform discussion.
- Bring young leaders together to have powerful and meaningful conversations.
- Inspire other young people to become leaders in a changing world and to recognise their individual and collective responsibilities.
- Consider what the changing world means to the lives of young people.
- Give opportunities for practical interventions and learning toward the greater good.

My World. Our World.
My future. Our future.

The Pillars

In such a rapidly changing world there are many issues affecting the lives of young people. All The Big Hope 2 content and activities will be focused through perspectives on the four pillars of The Big Hope 2:

'Freedom, Conflict, Equality and Change'

The Themes

To fully explore the four pillars, we need to address other social and cultural factors and how they impact on, and are impacted by them. These will be known as the 12 themes of The Big Hope 2.

The 12 themes are:

Health	Migration	Faith
Innovation	Education	Sport and Culture
Communication	Work and Business	Community and Environment

These themes will inform the basis of the keynote speaker programme, discussion forum schedule and learning tracks.

Sponsorship & in-kind opportunities

There are many ways for your organisation to support The Big Hope 2. Examples include:

Financial Donations - These will help us to offer scholarship opportunities, such as heavily reduced rates or fully paid tickets, to young people who may otherwise be unable to attend. We firmly believe that financial hardship should not prevent young people from participating and your support will help them overcome this.

Service Donations - Organising the logistics for a global conference of this scale is no mean feat! Young delegates from around the world will need transport, catering and other items. Your organisation can help by offering hire services at a reduced rate.

Time Donations - We want to make the programme as stimulating and enriching as possible. Does your organisation have specialists in their fields who would be happy to lead a parallel discussion session or learning track? If so, let us know (we can cover reasonable expenses).

Benefits of getting involved

Benefits to your organisation of supporting The Big Hope 2 include:

- Corporate Responsibility and staff enrichment - Give your organisation and staff the opportunity to have a positive impact on the development of young people locally and from around the world.
- Raising the profile of your business - Your brand will be exposed to thousands of people in the build up, during and after the congress. Delegates of today – leaders and decision makers of tomorrow!
